

A close-up photograph of a mosaic artwork. The mosaic is composed of numerous small, irregular pieces of translucent glass or stone tiles in shades of yellow, red, and purple. These tiles are arranged in a radial pattern, creating a sunburst or star-like effect. A small, circular hole is visible in the center of the mosaic. The mosaic is set against a white background, and a portion of a white plate is visible in the bottom left corner.

A close-up photograph of various art supplies. In the foreground, there's a red-handled brush with a silver ferrule and a black label that says "2 1/2\"
